RICHARDSON'S PATENT ALLEVIATOR, OR BEDSTEAD.

NEW and valuable improvement acknowledged to possess superior qualities and advantages over every other article of the kind ever before presented to the public.—This Redstead is not only valuable to those who like a change of position, but is especially and vast a valuable to the sick and invalid. Its construction and oper tion is simple and perfectly easy, so much so, that a child ten years old can with ease raise a person to any angle required.

The Subscriber having Patented the above Improvement, and made extensive arrangements for the manufacturing of the same, most respectfully refers all those desirous of purchasing this article by wholesale or retail, or the Patent Right for the same, to Elijah Bringham, at the new Granite Building, end of Merchant's Row.

NATHANIEL RICHARDSON

Boston, January, 1836.

The undersigned having possessed himself of an interest in the above business, most respectfully calls the attention of the public to this advertisement and carnestly asks an examination of the beforementioned Bedstead, believing and having the strongest confidence that none need be tool of its goodness and utility after a moment's examination of the same. Those wishing to purchase or view this article will please call at the new Granite Building north of the Market, and end of Merchats' Row, where this truly valuable article.

Why, then, did not the Atlas quote him against party spirit going to extremes. Because, though "the Devil can quote scripture, to suit his own purpose," yet when that does not suit his purpose, he must resort to something else. So instead of quoting the mild and honest Washington, the Atlas quotes "the most bitter bigot of the day."-Any bitter bigot of the day." It will require more time and talent than you can spare to "explain his nonsense."

We have been requested to state that the articles recently circulated in the New York papers, and copied into several of the papers of this city, relative to Benjamin Pitman, Jr., are fabrications, growing out of an affair between Mr Pitman and his employer, Mr Edw. D. Erower, of New York, which was, previous to the appearance of the articles alluded to, amicably settled, as the following extract of a receipt, dated May 19, and signed by Edw. D. Brower, fully proves :-

"This is to certify that I have received full satisfaction from Benjamin Pitman, Jr., and also release him from any prosecution whatever, either civil or criminal."

This is further substantiated by several gentlemen of the highest respectability, of this city, who were, in the presence of Mr Brower, made acquainted with all the circumone second! TRIAL OF RICHARD P. ROBINSON

FOR THE MURDER OF ELLIN JINEIT. I endensed from the N. V. T anscript I

Thursday, June 2.—The jury, consisting of the following gentlemen—Isaac Winslow, Buris Skidmure, Daviel Comstock, Joseph M. Inday, Perry Jewett, James S Schermuborn, Edward D. Boker, Garah Bull, Jeremiab R Field, James C. Parselle, Selek Waterbury and John J. Mairas - were sworn, and the indictment against the prisoner read to them. The indictment contained but one count, and during its reading the prisoner's countenance underwent no change-not a feature faltered -not a muscle was agitated. The Court took a short recess, at the termination of which, the District Attorney, Mr Phenix, opened the case for the prosecution, in a very key, impressive and elegant address to the jury, in the course of which he detailed to them all the facts that he intended

The stairs up which Robinson went, turned off way up to the second story, and he had reached stairs once to receive a boot, which a shoemaker brought home for her-it having been sent to hun to repair. She o'clock, Ellen came to the head of the stairs, being then in her night dress, and asked me to get for her a lottle of champaigne. She said that if I would hand it to her, she emploand where I generally kept my wine, but I found that there was none there, and, having to go into the cellar for some, I told Ellen that as she was in her night gown she had better not wait-that I could take it up. I did ver Lowndes, Justice of the Peace. shortly afterwards take it up, together with two wine glasses-champaigne glasses. When I took it up, Ellen opened the door of the bed room and asked me to walk in and take a glass of wine. I took the wine and glasses up stairs on a waiter. I declined to go into the room, and did not go in, but the door was opened sufficiently wide for the admission of the pay or waiter, so that I could see who was in the room, and nearly every thing in it. I stood immediately before the door, and the door opened inside towards the wall. I could see who was on the bed in the tains round it. There was a person then lying upon the bed; that person was Robinson, I am perfectly sme of this. He was lying on the bed with his b side of the wall, immediately opposite the door at which I stood, and against which the door opened. The foot of the bed faced the door, and was about five feet from the door, and from the place where I stood I distinctly saw the sale face of the person who was on the hed, and I cannot be mistaken that the person I matical there, with his head testing on his elbow, was the prisoner at the bar. He bad his other hand a paper or book which he was reading; I cannot tell which-something of the kind. There was a candle in the room which I think, when I was up there, stood on one of the pillows, or a little table which stood by the head of the bed, I cannot tell which. After this I immediately went down stans. That was the last that I saw of the prisoner at the bar on that night. At the time that I saw the prisoner at the bar on that night. of slaves. The Post Office bill occupied the remainder of the session.

Thursday, Jane 2.—In the Senate, the bill to authorize the purchase of stock, on the part of the United States, in the Louisiana and Portland canal, was taken up in committee of the whole. The maximum price was fixed at 16 per cent above par. Vacious amendments were agreed to, and the bill was then reported, and ordered to be eng ossed for a third reading.

The Senate then proceeded to consider the bill prohibiting deputy postmasters from receiving or transmitting incendiary publications through the mail. Mr Grundy offered an amendment restricting the punishment to removal from office, which was agreed to, and the bill was ordered to be engrossed, by the casting vote of the Vice President.

NHIS splendid painting is from one of the many sketches of the illustrations of Scripture History designed by the Lite B. West, Esq. fo a Gallery intended to have been formed by his late in jesty, George III., a do has been exhibited in London for 5 months to appeared of 80,000 visiters. The effect of it is truly impressive and powerful—it is a scene of awful sublimity and gran leng and shows the truth of the denunciations in the Bible against Jerusalem. As a work of art it must inspire every one with admiration at the prodigious effects of human genius, and the gigantic ideas of the artist, and such is the extraordinary illusions with which it is anisted, that the mind is led to contemplate it is a subject in reality. STOCKS,

NEW ENGLAND CROWN GLASS.—The New England Crown Glass Company have recently erected a new furnace and are manufactoring an excellent article. Their Crown Glass is thick, pure and of excellent color. Its thickness gives it an advantage over all thin glass, which is liable to crack from contraction in cold weather. Its surface not being polished after being blown, retains its enamel, brilliancy and hardness, and is not liable to the objection which applies to Plate Glass, of being easily and permanently bedimmed by dust.

is perfectly safe in its operation, and may be given to children or persons of the most delicate habit, without the least risk of inconvenience.

The uniform success which has attended the use of it where it has been extensively used, in Boston and various other parts of the United States, and in the West Indies, attested by disinferent expected and highly respectable persons, affords, next to a trial of the medicine itself, the best commendation which can be offered to those who are unacquainted with it.

Extract of a letter received from a gentleman in Boston who of the medicine itself, the best commentary upon its virtues and the best recommendation which can be offered to those who are unacquainted with it.

Extract of a letter received from a gentleman in Boston, who had suffered severely from indigestion for three years. 'During this time, I suffered very much from mental depression, constant pain in the head and breast, and side, sharp shooting painover almost the whole system—the food that I ate seemed to pass into my langes and there remain, giving me, great nain as tended with a strong degree of heat. At times, I suffered so much from the pain of indigestion as to be confined to the bed for two or three days. During one of these most severe attacks. I was induced by the advice of a friend to try your Vegetabl? Medicine. In the course of a few weeks I found myself much better, and by the time I had taken two bottles, considered myself wholly free from the complaint. I continue, on the least feeling of any thing like indigestion or pressure on the stomach, to take about a table spoonful of it, which, in the course of a few hours completely restores me. It has had with me a very wonderful effect, in strengthening the stomach and invigorating the whole system, and judging by my own case, I considered in all diseases connected with the digestive organs, Thursday The BOSTON Capt. Townsend. consider it in all diseases connected with the digestive organs, to be a very valuable medicine.

It has been found singularly efficacious in cases of the most obstinate headache.

It is put up in large bottles containing a pound and a half and sold at seventy-five cents each, by Jonathan P. Hall, Jr. No. 1, Union street, John P. Whitwell, Milk street, John I. Brown, near Boylston Market, Erastus S. Holden, near the Western Avenue, Richard A. Newell, Summer street, Boston; Samuel Kidder & Co. Charlestown, E. G. Lemon, Roxbury. f8 eoply;

Important to Mousekcepers. THE SUBSCRIBER at No 8 Milk street, 4th from the Old South, continues to dress or purify feathers with Reynolds' Patent Machine. It is said that old beek that have been thoroughly dressed in the above named machine, are better than new that have not been dressed. Rights to use the Machine in the counties of Suffolk, Norfolk, Middiesex and Essex, are for sale by the subscriber.

JACOB SMITH.

About six months since I examined Mr Smith's Machine for purifying feathers, and being satisfied that it must produce the effect for which it was intended, I sent a bed to be purified, which had been dried and aired in the ordinary way, by an upholsterer, four times in four successive years, without any lasting effect. The process of Mr Smith's machine upon this bed has proved completely effectual. The bed continues to be in perfect order, and the bulk of the feathers is permanently increased 25 per cent.

F. EMERSON.

CAUTION,—Notice is hereby given, that the patent tranted to me for cleansing and dressing feathers, dated Feb-uary 7, 1834, has been renewed with a more correct specifiruary 7, 1834, has been renewed with a more correct specification according to the act of Congress ir such case made and provided—and that this renewed patent is dated October 17th, 1835, and has been submitted to the examination of learned counsel who have pronounced it to be valid, and the invention well secured to the patentee. Now, therefore, this is to caution all persons against using without my license and consent, my invention, or any of the different modifications of it, with which some portions of the community have been deceived by designing men who prefer pillering to an honest livelihood, as I am determined to prosecute all infringements on my right, to the full extent and utmost rigor of the law.

GEORGE REYNOLDS, Patentee.
